Berlin Used by Reds to Split Europe

EDITORS: This is the first of a two-part series based on an exclusive interview with Gen. Lucius D. Clay.

By SAUL PETT
Associated Press Writer

President Kennedy's personal representative to Berlin feels Soviet Premier Khrushchev may be using that perennial crisis to sow fears and differences among the Western Allies and impede European progress toward political unity.

Gen. Lucius D. Clay, who commanded the 1948-49 operation that broke the Berlin blockade, says
he notes substantial improvement
in West Berlin's situation at the moment and adds he sees no immediate change in prospect.

But he cautions Khrushchev conceivably might risk war over the city, not because he wants free West Berlin that badly, but because "he wants to destroy the movement toward political unity
in Western Europe."

Clay, to many Germans a symbol of a U.S. promise not to abandon West Berlin to communism,
advanced his views in an exclusive and unusually illuminating interview in New York with The Associated Press, the first half of which follows in question and answer form. The second half of the interview will be presented Thursday.

Q. You are getting to be quite a commuter to Berlin aren't you,
general?

A. Well I hope I'll be lengthening the time between visits, because I think they are in a status quo there now. It could last for many, many months.

Q. Why?

A. Well in the first place the morale of the people in Berlin has withstood the wall and there is not much that the Communists can do to frighten Berlin short of those measures that would undoubtedly lead to massive countermeasures. The pin-pricks which they might exert against the Allies carried great risk. And they proved to be a failure in disturbing the Berliners. So I don't see what they have to gain out taking that risk.

Q. Will your mission continue for the duration of the Berlin crisis?

A. I don't think we know. The President has asked me to continue as an advisor and obviously there is very little advice to give
as long as we stay in the position of status quo. As far as Berlin is concerned there has been a substantial improvement.

Q. In what way?

A. Well the morale of the people has returned to normal and in fact I think they are probably more determined than ever to hold out. The economy of the city has recovered from the initial shock and looks like it is on the move again.

Q. But the basic situation as between the West and the Russians?

A. It remains unchanged and I don't see any immediate change
in prospect.

Q. What do you suppose was behind Khrushchev's recent proposals?

Fort Smith TV Station Honored

FORT SMITH, Ark. (AP)—The National Safety Council "Award
of Merit" has been presented to television station KFSA in Fort Smith for helping in a national campaign to prevent blasting cap
accidents. The award is for public service time contributed by the station in showing film spots
warning youngsters against touching blasting caps.

Big Balloon Put Up as Echo No. 2

By HOWARD BENEDICT

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—
The largest space vehicle ever sent aloft—a balloon which inflated to the height of a 13 story building—was rocketed 950 miles above the Atlantic Ocean today as a forerunner of an advanced Echo communications satellite.

The gleaming silvery sphere,
dubbed "Big Shot," provided a brief but spectacular show for ground observers in the Cape Canaveral area as it separated from the Thor booster, expanded to its full 135-foot diameter, and drifted across the predawn sky.
It was visible for nearly 10 minutes before becoming obscured by haze and cloud.

Clouds apparently confined observation of the big ball to the Cape area. Clear skies would have permitted observation of the balloon throughout much of the eastern United States.

Today's shot was to determine whether the balloon would expand and hold its form after being sent aloft. There were no communications tests.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration announced
success of the mission, which paves the way for launching a similar balloon into orbit later
this year as the Echo II experimental communications satellite.

After rising to 950 miles the balloon plunged back and burned up as intended in the earth's atmosphere. Death of the sphere occurred about 23 minutes after the 4:30 a. m. launching, some 600
miles south of the Cape.

"Big Shot" is easily the largest package ever sent into space.
However, many U.S. satellites
have weighed much more than its 510 pounds.

A television camera mounted in the head of the Thor booster rocket sent live pictures of the balloon inflation to a monitor on the Cape. Officials reported they were of excellent quality and clearly showed the inflating of the balloon
after it was released from a canister in the nose of the Thor.

Recovery craft waited about 250 miles northeast of San Salvador to try to pick up films made by a movie camera aboard the rocket that also recorded the inflation process.

Kelly Bryant Open House Next Sunday

Announcement was made today
by Kelly Bryant of Hope, candidate for Secretary of State, that he and his campaign staff would conduct open house from 1 to 5
p. m. Sunday, July 22, at his headquarters Room 518, Marion Hotel,
Little Rock. Assisting Mr. Bryant will be his wife, Elizabeth, and daughter, Betty, who have traveled regularly with him during the campaign.

Bryant was graduated from the University of Arkansas in 1934,
with a Bachelor of Science Degree in Business Administration.
After his marriage in 1935 to Elizabeth Sutton, daughter of Mr.
and Mrs. O. C. Sutton of Marianna, he established his home at Hope. A daughter, Betty, graduated from Hope High School, and will enroll at the U of A in September. Bryant is a Methodist and a Rotarian.

Bryant published a daily newspaper at Hope from 1939 to 1951.
Since then he has been co-publisher of the Arkansas Almanac,
and editor of the official magazine
of the Arkansas Sheriffs' Association.

He also served 2½ years as State Printing Clerk in the State Auditor's Office. Because of this experience and knowledge of State Printing requirements, he was named by the Secretary of State to act as bid analyst last year and again this year when bids were opened on State Printing contracts.

Bryant said of his candidacy:
"I have been active in state affairs and state business for many years, having served in various capacities during this time. I feel I am qualified to fulfill the duties of this office in every phase and manner."

Candidates to Meet at Nebo Park

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Arkansas gubernatorial candidates had mostly stump tours
scheduled today, before their annual Mt. Nebo Chicken Fry at Mt. Nebo State Park near Dardanelle tonight.

If all six candidates appear, it will be the second time during the campaign they have all shared the same platform.

Sponsors of the event say the candidates will have 10 minutes
each, with David Cox leading off
and Gov. Orval E. Faubus scheduled to speak last.

Tuesday, Cox made no major talks. Faubus told a crowd of some 700 persons sitting in cars
at a drive-in movie at Searcy that an armory purchased by Truman Baker of Searcy for $35,000 wasn't worth $100,000, as has been charged by Dale Alford.

Alford, speaking at Newport,
charged that state tax burdens
have been increased heavily during the past 7½ years while the state lost population, thereby increasing the individual tax load.

Kenneth Coffelt, stumped the state, talking to supporters at Amity and Mt. Ida.

Vernon Whitten announced that he will have a one-hour "talka-
thon" today on eight radio stations and one television station in North Arkansas.

Sid McMath, in his regular nightly television talk from Little Rock, renewed his attack on W. R.
(Witt) Stephens, president of Arkansas Louisiana Gas Co., and the state Public Service Commission.

Alford scored the governor for his talks on the progress of the state during the administration,
saying they have not had the desired effect on voters.

"I wonder if he does not know that the people have a very keen perception of just who is responsible for the things for which he attempts to take credit," Alford asked.

He said, "Many people who are depriving their families of some necessities of life in order to pay
the high tax imposed upon them feel that they have had something to do with the money which has been spent in our state government."

Alford said there was too much bias, hatred and prejudice in Arkansas over the civil rights issue. He accused Faubus of using the issue for political expedience
and said he defended such rights
every two years but ignored the "whole thing except as a political issue."

He charged that state Labor
Commissioner Clarence Thorn-
brough has sent letters to plant
workers throughout the state, taking credit for increased workman's compensation during the Faubus administration. He also said five state policemen are on leave, campaigning for the governor.

Alford, in an interview later, defended himself as a segregation-
ist who believes in the principles of separate but equal.

Faubus told his Searcy audience
that he had documents from two groups stating they would have paid no more than the $35,000 paid by Truman for the armory. Both groups bid on the armory, he said.

Alford has charged that the building was sold by the state at that price, then the administration bought property a few blocks away for $50,000 on which to construct a building for the Employment Security Division.

McMath charged that Junction

Telstar to Carry Voice of President

WASHINGTON (AP)—President
Kennedy will hold a news conference next Monday—and the White House said part of it will go live to Europe by means of the new communications satellite, Telstar.

The session with Washington
newsmen will take place at 3 p. m.
EDT. White House Press Secretary Pierre Salinger told reporters "part of the President's conference will be carried by Telstar
to Europe."

This historic first will be part of a program going both ways between America and Europe by means of Telstar. The news conference was timed to coincide with an orbit of the satellite which will put it in position to handle the teletext.

In Europe, the European television network could carry whatever Kennedy says throughout the conference, the White House added.

Vote Officials List Tomorrow

The list of election officials
chosen for the preferential primary July 31 was received by The Star just before noon today,
too late to be set in type for this edition.

The list will be published tomorrow. The Hempstead County Democratic Central Committee
made the selection Tuesday, but typing up the long list, and then turning it into type, made delay inevitable.

W. E. Adams Dies of Log Truck Injury

Willard E. Adams, 41, who was injured loading logs in Little River bottoms below Ashdown about 10 Tuesday morning, died early Wednesday in an Ashdown hospital.

A Veteran of World War II, he is survived by his wife, Lula Belle; two sons, Gerald and Terrell; his mother and father, Mr.
and Mrs. L. E. Adams; two brothers, Homer and Edward, all of Fulton Route One.

The funeral will be at 4 p. m.
Thursday in the Powers Baptist Church with Revs. Wayne Johnson and Norman Grant officiating.
Burial will be in Westmoreland
Cemetery with Herndon-Cornelius
in charge.

'Carousel' at Hodges' Gardens

MANY, La. — "Carousel,"
which has been described by Brooks Atkinson, drama critic of the New York Times, as "the most glorious of the Rodgers and Hammerstein works," will be presented by the University of Southeast Louisiana Opera Guild on Saturday, July 21, at 7:30 p. m., on the lakeshore stage of Hodges' Gardens.

Based on the play "Lilom" by Hungarian playwright Ferenc Molnar, the Opera Guild production
will include 100 actors, singers,
musicians, dancers and various technical workers with Dr. Willis Duerest, head of the USL Music
Department, as general manager.

Co-stars will be Antonio Perez, USL music faculty member, who will be cast in the role of Billy Bigelow, the roughneck carousel
barker, and Mary Virginia Leonard of Abbeville, who plays the modest mill girl who loves Bige-
low.

Other members of the cast will be Michael Massa, Rose Mary Minihan, Mrs. James Hanna, Tom Jones, Ramona Carmichael, Geo.
Brown, Hugh Wallis, John Cox,
Harvey Carpenter, Louis Touchet, Sandra Jolet, Janis Gonsoulin and Mary Cecelia Stein.

Producer and director is Bernard Erhard, USL music professor, with John Turner, also of USL music faculty, serving as musical director. Hugh Wallis Jr., member of the Lafayette High School faculty, is stage manager
and technical director.

Like all twilight programs sponsored by the A. J. and Nona Trigg Hodges Foundation, the play will be open to the public without charge. The Gardens are located on Highway 171.

2 Killed in Auto Crash Near Alma

VAN BUREN, Ark. (AP)—A head-on collision took the lives of two persons Tuesday night near Alma. Three others were injured.
State Police identified the victims as Mrs. Louise Eisenburger, 61, Enid, Okla., and Mrs. Eunice
Darlene Keithley, Mountainburg, Ark.

The injured were C. W. Eisen-
burger, 61; Thomas L. Ward, 70, and wife, Fanny, 74. The Wards are of Dallas, Tex. The three were not believed seriously injured, police said.

State Trooper Joel Sullivan said
a car driven by Winston Keithley, husband of Mrs. Keithley, collided with the car driven by Eisenbur-
ger. The Wards were passengers in the Eisenburger car, police
said.

Three Blytheville business properties are scheduled to be sold at auction July 27. They are the Hotel Noble, the Razorback Restaurant and Liquor Store and the Rustic Inn. All are the property of Elbert Reddick of Blytheville.

Medicare Is Killed by Senate Vote

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate has killed the administration's compromise medical care
plan for the elderly on a 52-48
vote, branded by President Kennedy as "a most serious defeat
for every American family."

Kennedy promptly fired his stinging reverse by a coalition of Republicans and Southern Democrats into a major issue for the November congressional elections
and said he would offer the program again next year.

The American Medical Association, which led the fight against the program that would have been financed through higher Social Security payments, said Tuesday's Senate action was "a vote
in the public interest."

Kennedy had placed the medical care plan in the top priority
bracket of his legislative program.
The coalition that scrapped it was of the same pattern of the one that had killed two of his other major proposals in the House
—his farm bill and his plan to set up a Department of Urban Affairs.

Joining 31 Republicans to kill the medical care plan were 21
Democrats, 17 of them Southern-
ers. Five Republicans who cosponsored the compromise voted with 43 Democrats in trying to save it.

The showdown was on approval
of a motion by Sen. Robert S.
Kerr, D-Okla., to table and thus kill an amendment by Sen. Clinton P. Anderson, D-N.M., that would have hooked the plan onto a House-passed public welfare
bill.

The climax to the most bitterly
fought issue of the current session
came at mid-afternoon in a packed Senate chamber. All 100 senators were on hand. Many House members and Senate employees huddled at the rear of the floor.
Capacity crowds filled the galleries.

An hour after the Senate vote,
Kennedy went before television
cameras and radio microphones to read a statement. He said the defeat had dealt a setback to 17 million Americans over 65, and was a blow to children of older persons who have to educate their families and help their parents
meet medical expenses.

Then he added:

"I think the American people
are going to make a decision in November as to whether they want this bill, and similar bills,
to be passed, or whether they want it to be defeated. Nearly all the Republicans and a handful of Democrats joined with them to give us today's setback."

"We have to decide, the United States, in 1962, in November, in the congressional elections, whether we want to stand still or whether we want to support this kind of legislation for the benefit of the people."

"You are going to have a chance to make that judgment.
With your support in November,
this will pass in 1963."

Also prompt in its comment was
the American Medical Association. Its president, Dr. George M.
Fister, said in Chicago.

"It would have been inequitable
to force wage earners to pay substantially higher payroll taxes to provide health care for millions
who are able to take care of themselves."

"The American Medical Association will continue its efforts to further implement and strengthen the Kerr-Mills law (which offers federal funds to states to help cover medical care for the aged under certain circumstances) and all voluntary programs to help meet health needs of the aged."

Charles Reynerson Dies at 55

Charles Reynerson, 55, former Hope city treasurer for a number of years, died at 2 o'clock this afternoon in a local hospital after a short illness.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs.
Frances Silver Reynerson, his mother, Mrs. Lennie Reynerson,
three sisters, Mrs. Otho
Taylor of Crossett, Mrs. J. L.
Horton of Little Rock and Mrs.

Army Mulls Compromise for Peru

By THOMAS J. STONE

LIMA, Peru — Political
leaders awaited today the military's all-important reaction to a political deal to swing the nation's disputed presidency to former dictator Manuel Odría.

Victor Raul Haya de la Torre,
controversial runner in the June 10 elections, and his leftist
Popular Revolutionary Alliance
(APRA) agreed to throw the post to the rightist Odría in an effort to end the threat of a military coup resulting from the armed forces' bitter opposition to Haya.

The constitution requires that Congress choose the president
from among the three top men
in the election unless the high
man gets one-third of the total vote. Haya fell 6,000 votes short, Fernando Belaunde Terry came second and Odría was third. The leftist APRA and the rightist Odría Union together will have a comfortable majority in the new Congress—if the military lets it meet.

After the APRA-Odría deal, outgoing President Manuel Prado responding Premier Carlos Monroya Paz Soldan and his Cabinet to office, rejecting all but one of the resignations the Cabinet had submitted Monday. The sole holdout, Navy Minister Guillermo Trivado,
said his resignation was irrevocable.

Prado announced that the new Congress will meet July 28, as scheduled, to name the next president.

Berlin Used

posals, which we rejected, that Western troops in Berlin be replaced by Norwegian-Danish or Belgian-Dutch plus Czech-Polish forces?

A. I think, Mr. Khrushchev would like very much to get the Allies out of West Berlin. The presence of the Allied troops there and the rapid development of the city has of course made it a veritable citadel of freedom behind the Iron Curtain which he would like to destroy.

Now this proposal to replace the Allied with the troops of other nations, of course, doesn't make very much sense. We are in Berlin as a result of victory in war. Many of these nations were not even in the war. There is no right to garrison Berlin per se. The people of West Berlin cannot be made to accept garrisons from any and all countries.

We have added to that a firm commitment to the people of West Berlin that as long as they want our troops there they will have them. We couldn't give up on that commitment under any circumstances.

Q. Why do you suppose Khrushchev brought it up? Is it some sort of a gambit?

A. Yes. I think it's to show—before the world—that he is willing to compromise and find a settlement. He has several times said he would be glad to see West Berlin made into an international city. Now by that he means a city completely free and independent but having no connections with the Federal Republic of Germany. And of course a little enclave like West Berlin, entirely behind the Iron Curtain, would quickly fade away if it did not have its connections with the Federal Republic.

Q. Khrushchev said that the possibility of war over Berlin is "ever more ominous." What do you think?

A. I would say that possibility is entirely under the control of Mr. Khrushchev. Only if Mr. Khrushchev takes aggressive actions to destroy the city, to lessen the authority and responsibility of the Allies, will war become a possibility or a threat. So Mr. K to this extent is in control. He can make it a place where war can easily break out. But no one but Mr. K can do that.

Q. But your general feeling is that tension has lessened and the possibility of war is lower?

A. I think you have got to remember that the tensions we are speaking of are two different kinds. The important tension which existed between the U.S. and its Allies and Russia has abated. The constant needling of the Allies by the Soviets and East Germans has stopped. They are no longer threatening our air corridors. The general atmosphere is much more free of tension than it has been for some time. This is why it is possible to conduct talks that are going on now.

On the other hand the tension between the East German and the West German in Berlin has not abated. The wall is still there. The constant attempts of desperate people to escape through the wall leads to constant shootings across the border. People are killed quite frequently.

Q. The question of Berlin constantly comes up in Communist discussions of other issues such as nuclear weapons and disarmament. In propaganda to Germany the Communists say the U.S. is planning "new harassing maneuvers" against any solution in Berlin and intending to direct some sort of West German atomic aggression eastward. Are they leading up to something?

A. Of course, the Soviet government has already indicated its considerable apprehension over the growth of the Common Market and over its movement toward political unity. It has always been their view that these kinds of movements could be stopped by creating new tensions, new apprehensions, new fears. I have a feeling that their actions against Berlin have this in view.

For this reason, and since the alliance continues to grow very strongly towards eventual political union, I am inclined to believe that we may expect further pushes from Mr. K against Berlin.

At the present moment the economy of East Germany is in rather bad shape. That economy is oriented to West Germany and without trade with Western Germany it might indeed put East Germany in a very difficult economic position. Great efforts are being made to re-orient the economy of East Germany toward Warsaw Pact countries. This will take some time.

I doubt if the Communist countries will be inclined to take any moves that risk a break in the East German West German trade until they have succeeded in re-orienting the East German economy. This is another reason why I think we have an interlude of relative quiet in Berlin.

Q. You think, then, if he does do anything about Berlin it's primarily with an eye toward undermining the Western alliance?

A. There is a possibility that to stop the development of Western European political unity he might even be willing to risk war. It is certain he wouldn't risk war just for Berlin. So if these develop-

U.S. Plane Buzzed by Red Flier

By CARL HARTMAN

BERLIN (AP)—Western officials regard the buzzing of an American plane by a Russian jet in a West Berlin air corridor Tuesday as an isolated incident, informed sources said today.

The officials reportedly could find no evidence that the Soviets planned to resume their harassment of Western planes of last winter. Traffic in the air corridors was normal today.

The United States protested to Soviet officials against the incident.

It was the first Soviet harassment of Allied traffic in the air corridors since last winter. It came only hours before President Kennedy called in the Soviet ambassador in Washington and told him the West has no intention of withdrawing its troops from Berlin.

The U.S. mission here said the American plane was a DC3 of the U.S. Federal Aviation Agency on its way from Hamburg, West Germany, to West Berlin's Tempelhof Airport to check navigational aids.

The Soviet MIG swooped within 400 feet of the DC3's nose just after the American plane had crossed the Iron Curtain border into Communist East German territory. The MIG then took a position off the wing of the U.S. plane.

The MIG withdrew after a few minutes. The DC3 continued to Berlin and made an extensive flight over the city, checking radio beams and other flight aids, before landing.

There were no indications that shots were fired, that the Soviet plane signaled the DC3 to land or that the two planes made radio contact. The American spokesman said he could not furnish the

Railroads to Put Firemen Off Diesels

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—The nation's railroads have set August 16 as the date to put into effect new work rules recommended by a presidential commission five months ago. The move is expected to trigger a nationwide strike call by the five operating brotherhoods.

Jobs of 13,000 firemen employed on diesel locomotives would be eliminated under the carriers' plan, announced Tuesday in Chicago.

Some 27,000 other firemen, working as second men in diesel locomotives cabs in freight yard service and pulling freight trains, would keep their jobs.

Officials of three of the five affected unions drafted a reply to the railroads' proposal.

The dispute, involving claimed "featherbedding" problems the carriers say has cost them $300 million a year in unneeded expenditures, seems headed for the White House.

There is little likelihood of a strike in the near future by the 200,000 employees who operate the trains, the locomotive engineers, firemen, conductors and brakemen, trainmen and switchmen.

President Kennedy has the power to bar a strike for at least 60 days. He has the authority to invoke emergency provisions of the Railway Labor Act and name a board to make settlement recommendations during the cooling-off period.

J. E. Wolfe, chairman of the carriers' joint bargaining committee, made the announcement to a U.S. pilot's name or whereabouts, the markings on his aircraft or anything about the flight that might have made it of special interest to the Russians.

The spokesman said, however, that the Russians had advanced word of the flight through a flight plan filed with the four-power Berlin Air Safety Center, one of the few places in Berlin where the British, French and Americans still have regular contact with the Russians.

Phils Drop Houston in Double Bill

By JIM BECKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

You can get an argument on whether expansion was a good thing for the National League, but you won't get it from the Philadelphia Phillies.

The Phils, who tied a record for futility last year, are thriving on the expansion clubs. Tuesday night they took their ninth and tenth straight from the sagging Houston Colts, who have yet to beat them. The scores were 3-0 and 8-2. The two-night double-header loss ran the Houston record to 20 losses in the last 23 games.

At the other end of the league standings, the leading Los Angeles Dodgers had their troubles, too.

Sore-handed Sandy Koufax last night in an inning against the Cincinnati Reds and gave up two runs before he retired with a blister on the forefinger of his left hand. The Reds went on to a 7-5 victory, cutting the Dodgers lead over the San Francisco Giants to one game.

The Giants pushed over a run without a hit in the ninth inning to beat Milwaukee 4-3.

Ageless Stan Musial cracked a three-run homer to give the St. Louis Cardinals a victory over the Chicago Cubs, 8-6. The Pittsburgh Pirates and the Mets were not scheduled.

In the American League, the New York Yankees edged Gene Conley and the Boston Red Sox, 1-0, to hold their 3½-game margin over the Los Angeles Angels, who slipped past the Detroit Tigers by the same score.

Baltimore beat Kansas City for its fifth straight, 3-2, behind Robin Roberts. Cleveland dropped out of a second-place tie as the Minnesota Twins beat them 7-2 and Washington dropped the Chicago

White Sox twice 1-0 and 7-3. Koufax' difficulties dealt a blow to the Dodgers. The great left hander has been suffering from a mysterious numbness in his pitching hand for about a month. He has not been able to finish a game since July 4, when he beat the Phillies, 16-1.

The Braves were in a give-away mood against the Giants. With Warren Spahn on the mound, Mack Jones misplayed a line drive by Willie Mays into a double in the first inning and Orlando Cepeda followed with a two-out homer. Felipe Alou added a homer in the seventh.

Musial plastered his three run homer in the sixth inning with the Cardinals trailing 5-4. It was the 13th of the season and 457th of his career. Larry Jackson, hurt by a leaky defense, got the victory although Lindh McDaniels worked the last three innings, giving up a homer to Ernie Banks, his 23rd.

Johnny Callison homered for the Phils as they shut out the Colts in the first game behind Jack Hamilton, who went the first seven, and Jack Baldschun. Frank Torre was the hitting star in the second game with two singles and a triple, as Cal McLish won his sixth game with relief help from Dennis Bennett.

Hope Juniors Lose 1-0 to Arkadelphia

At Arkadelphia Tuesday night the Hope Junior American Legion was edged out 1 to 0 in the 10th inning of a 3 inning overtime.

The game went very quickly with neither team able to get into scoring position until the 8th when Hope with bases loaded was unable to score.

The winning run was scored by Smith who was on by a fielder's choice, he stole second and went to third on an error. He came home on a sacrifice fly to left field.

Hope managed three singles for the game, coming from Jerry Burnett, Mac Campbell and Carl McMurtrey.

McMurtrey struck out 14, while yielding only one hit and walking two.

Arkadelphia' hurler Jimmy Lemons walked two, gave up three hits and struck out 15.

Hurlers Have Grounds for Complaint

By DAVE O'HARA
Associated Press Sports Writer

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Milwaukee pitchers, headed by southpaw great Warren Spahn, have plenty of grounds for a non-support suit against their bitters and fielders.

The Braves' give-way program is reaching new heights.

The San Francisco Giants combined homers by Orlando Cepeda and Felipe Alou with the weakness of the Braves in the field for a 3-2 victory Tuesday night to move within one game of National League leading Los Angeles, 7-5 loser to Cincinnati.

Spahn, who has been given only 19 runs by his mates in 11 losses, failed in a bid for his ninth triumph of the season and No. 318 of his brilliant career. However, he escaped the defeat.

The Giants scored the winning run in the ninth without a hit against reliever Claudy Raymond.

Cepeda drew a walk, moved to second on a sacrifice and scored as Rookie Amado Samuel let Harvey Kuenn's grounder go through his legs for a two-base error.

Spahn, the 41-year-old dean of the Milwaukee pitching staff, declined to criticize his lack of support, which included a misjudged line drive by center fielder Mack Jones just before Cepeda's 20th homer in the first inning.

Willie Mays got a double as Jones watched the ball sail over his head.

"Any time a pitcher is given three runs he has no reason to complain," Spahn said philosophically. "I wanted to bounce the ball up the plate to Cepeda, especially with first base open, but I got it over somehow and he belted it. Alou hit a changeup which hung waist high."

Monday Bowsfield explained the trouble.

He had polio.

The club naturally didn't say so, but there was a chance Bowsfield might never have pitched again, even though he had only a mild form of the disease.

Bowsfield's left arm was so weak he couldn't lift a three-pound weight. The disease, doctors said, had caused a collapse of the muscles high in the back of his arm.

Dr. Robert Woods, the club physician, said it might have been much worse if Bowsfield hadn't had Salk anti-polio shots.

He underwent a series of electrical shock treatments, but for a while it didn't look as though they were doing much good.

Bowsfield tried to play catch one night, and couldn't throw the ball 20 feet.

"But my arm got a little stronger every day," he said, "and before long I was able to throw the ball from the outfield to the infield."

Ted didn't pitch again until June 20, when he started a game at Kansas City.

Bowsfield's recovery looked even more complete after his next few starts. He ran his winning streak to four games—beating the New York Yankees twice in the process—before taking a loss Monday as the Angels were beaten 4-1 by Washington.

"I think I've got this thing whipped," he said.

Baugh Joins Coaches Who Are Jobless

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Sammy Baugh has joined the thin line of coaches and managers, including Casey Stengel, who have been paid for not running a ball club.

"Slingin' Sam has nothing but the best to say about the boys he left behind on the New York Titans of the American Football League after coaching the Titans for two years, Baugh will be paid off in full—$20,000—for the last year of his contract.

"They have better material and a better club than we had last year," Baugh said Tuesday when he and owner Harry Wismer smoked the peace pipe in public at a news conference.

Although Baugh hadn't heard from Wismer since the next-to-last game of the 1961 season and had reported to training camp at East Stroudsburg, Pa., without any official notice of his firing, all was sweetness and light.

"We're both good friends," said Wismer. "Everything worked out all right. Sammy will be paid in full for the year."

"I've always liked Harry," said Baugh. "We've had our little differences but I've enjoyed working with the Titans."

How about Baugh? What's next? "I like this league. I'd like to stay in it. I wouldn't mind a college job if it was close to home. But I'd prefer the pros."

Robin Hurls Orioles to His 5th Win

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

There are some red faces in the American League today.

The causes of these embarrassing blushes are Robin Roberts of Baltimore and Ken McBride of Los Angeles, a pair of cast-off pitchers shunned by the rest of the league.

Roberts, former mainstay of the Philadelphia Phillies, was signed and then cut loose by the New York Yankees even before he had pitched a championship game. Only the Orioles were willing to gamble on him. The 35-year-old right-hander long since has rewarded their faith in him.

Yesterday night the Orioles received extra dividends on their investment when Robbie pitched a seven-hitter to defeat Kansas City 3-2 for his fifth victory in eight decisions.

McBride was thrown into the grabbag by the White Sox in the American League player pool nearly two years ago and the Angels plucked him for $75,000.

A 12-game winner in 1961, the 26-year-old right-hander shut out Detroit 1-0 for his ninth straight victory and tenth of the season. He has lost only three.

The triumph gave the Angels undisputed possession of second place but left them still 3½ games behind the Yankees, who nipped Boston 1-0 for their fifth straight victory. Minnesota dumped Cleveland into third place with a 7-2 success over the Indians and Washington swept a doubleheader from the White Sox 1-0 and 7-5.

San Francisco's Giants narrowed Los Angeles' National League lead to one game, defeating Milwaukee 4-3 while Cincinnati was drubbing the Dodgers 7-5. St. Louis whipped the Chicago Cubs 8-6 and Philadelphia downed Houston twice 5-0 and 8-2 to make it 10 straight over the Colts.

Ralph Terry pitched a four-hitter for the Yankees and rookie shortstop Tom Tresh singled home the run in the Yankees' 1-0 triumph over the Red Sox. Gene Conley matched Terry's shutout pitching until the eighth when Hector Lopez and Clete Boyer singled and Tresh came through with his two-out blow.

In another 1-0 decision, Dave Stenhouse of Washington bested Juan Pizarro of the White Sox in the first game of their two-night twin bill. Rookie Don Lock homered for the only run. Stenhouse pitched a three-hitter for his eighth victory. The Senators, blanked by Early Wynn with three hits through seven innings, erupted for six runs in the eighth for their two game sweep. Tom Cheney was the winner.

Harmon Killebrew, emerging from a batting slump, drove in four runs, three with his 22nd homer of the season, to lead the Twins to victory. Camilo Pascual went the route, holding the Indians to five hits for his 14th victory.

On the other hand, the excessive drinking might simply be weakness of character, a longing to be considered a good fellow by the boys. If so, he needs understanding and care. Corner him in a sober moment and put these questions to him. Divorce is a last resort.

Dear Helen: When did you start wearing make-up? How old were you when you first dated? I am 16 and my mother says I must be at least 17. I disagree. I make good grades at school, am on the honor roll four out of six times and will be a senior in autumn—Big J.

Dear Big: I began wearing make-up (not much) when I was 16—the year I had my first date. The make-up consisted of a dab of rose-tinted anti-chap salve on my lips and a faint blending of pink liquid rouge on my cheeks for, as a young girl, I was very pale. My grandmother, being a Southern belle, thought I should use rice powder too. I tried it once and looked as if I'd fallen face-down in a flour barrel. Then there were no cosmetics for girls. Now there are plenty. The best are the most natural looking.

City, on the Arkansas-Louisiana border, gets a lower gas rate than the remainder of the state. He accused Stephens and the PSC of offering the city a deal to take the lower rate rather than protest the latest gas rate increase sought by Arkla.

McMath said when Arkla asked for its last increase, only two cities knew about it in time to petition the PSC for a formal hearing on it—Russellville and Junction City. He charged that Russellville was pressured into dropping its protest.

Whitten said he will be on the air from 12:15 to 1:15 p.m. to answer questions called in by the audience. The talkathon will be shown simultaneously on KFSATV from 12:30 to 1 p.m., he said.

Whitten had only the radio talk and the Mt. Nebo chicken fry on his schedule for today.

McMath was to be at North Little Rock early today, at Russellville, and in Pope and Yell county communities. Alford was to visit Hazen, Carlisle and Lonoke and Faubus, Perryville, Morrilton and Monticello. All these candidates had Mt. Nebo on their schedule. Cox did not release an itinerary.

Grandma Comes First With This Unhappy Kid

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen: You publish plenty of letters from girls who are treated like slaves in their own homes. Well, I am a 13-year-old boy whose father and mother never give him anything but abuse.

Me and my kid brother get the worst of everything in this house. You'd think our whole purpose in life was to wait on our parents and sisters. It's "Billy, get going!" until I'm disgusted with living. My sisters all have pretty dresses and shoes that fit. I don't even have Sunday shoes, only one old pair that hurts and the same clothes for work and Sunday. When I ask for shoes or a suit, the folks say they are broke.

Other boys my age look nice, but not me. It's got so I'm ashamed to go anywhere. When I try to tell my Dad he says, "Shut up!" My grandmother sent me birthday money and my mother made me divide it with my sisters. Grandma and me get along fine. She loves me. Would it cause her trouble if I ran away to her? One of the kids in my class at school told me to write you. —Depressed Billy

Dear Depressed: Instead of running away to your grandmother, talk to her just as you have to me. Don't cause her needless misery by seeking a haven with her unless your parents approve. Legally she has no right to intervene. In the eyes of the law you are a minor until 21-years old. However, with the proper approach, your problem could be worked out amicably, especially if your grandmother assumed financial responsibility for you. One less mouth to feed might be used as an argument in your favor. Show your grandmother this column.

4 Yanks Die, 5 Missing in S. Viet Nam

By MALCOLM W. BROWNE

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Three air crashes in 24 hours in South Viet Nam's guerrilla-infested jungles today left 26 dead, including four American servicemen.

Five more Americans were missing in the air crashes, and another was killed in an ambush Saturday in one of the bloodiest weekends in recent months.

A two-engine troop-laden Vietnamese air force transport crashed near the Laos border north of Saigon today in the most serious of the air mishaps, killing 22 Vietnamese soldiers and a U.S. Air Force flight instructor. There were four survivors, all reported to be Vietnamese.

The C47 transport caught fire and crashed on take off at Kon Tum Airport, 20 miles northeast of here.

Seven planes and six helicopters searched for the wreckage of a two-engine U.S. transport believed to have crashed Sunday against a mountain while on a flight from Saigon to Ban Me Thuot, 160 miles to the northeast. The C123 transport had a crew of four Americans aboard.

The search was hampered by heavy rain and mist over the foothills and mountains around Ban Me Thuot.

Other search crews probed the mountainous jungle 280 miles northeast of Saigon where a U.S. Army H21 helicopter crashed in flames after being hit by guerrilla gunfire.

Ground parties found the charred bodies of two U.S. Army officers and an enlisted man. But an American enlisted man and two Vietnamese were still missing.

The only known survivor, a U.S. Army captain said to have been

ing her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Coop.

Animals in High Flight Are Killed

PRINCE ALBERT, Sask. (AP)

Two monkeys and four hamsters exposed to cosmic rays were reported found dead after their capsule was parachuted into dense bush country from a high-flying U.S. research balloon Sunday.

The report came from a helicopter crew that visited the site a few hours after the cluster of three capsules was released.

There was no immediate word on the cause of the death of the animals.

The experiment was to test the effects of 50 per cent exposure to the radiation that man is expected to encounter in future journeys into space.

Flower beetles, which are extremely sensitive to cosmic radiation, also went in a separate capsule on the 1,800-mile ride at altitudes of up to 131,000 feet across the North American continent that began Saturday.

First reports from the wilderness area where the capsules fell did not mention the insects' fate.

A third capsule carried instruments.

The capsules' release from the balloon was triggered over Candle Lake in northern Saskatchewan.

The U.S. National Aeronautics and Space Administration directed the research project. Two more launchings are planned this summer to provide basic information on radiation problems applicable to manned space flight.

Mr. K Boasts Red Rocket Infallible

By STANLEY JOHNSON

MOSCOW (AP) — Premier Khrushchev says the Soviet Union has a global rocket that can "hit a fly in outer space" and cannot be destroyed by "any antirocket means."

Khrushchev made the claim near the end of a 2½-hour interview with 13 American editors during which he also stressed that West Berlin is the crux of the East-West dispute and must be settled by getting Western troops out of the city. He set a new deadline for their exit.

"I am not boasting," Khrushchev told the editors in his Kremlin conference room, "but we actually have a global rocket which cannot be destroyed by any anti-rocket means, and I know, if anyone does, what antirocket means are, because we do have them."

"The high-altitude explosion carried out by the United States will in no way interfere with the action of our global rocket," he declared.

Khrushchev spent 37 minutes emphasizing the importance of the Berlin issue, accusing the Western powers of clinging to West Berlin as a military bridgehead.

"As long as the occupation forces of the U.S., Britain and France remain in West Berlin, they will play the role of an irritant which will raise the temperature in the relations between states," he declared.

If the Western troops depart, Khrushchev said, the Soviet Union is willing to join the Allies in a pledge of noninterference with West Berlin life, a guarantee to be "sealed with the seal of the United Nations."

He threatened anew to sign a separate peace treaty with East Germany, a move the Russians claim would end Western rights in West Berlin.

"When shall we do it?" he asked. "We shall not hurry, but neither shall we tarry. I will not set any time limit."

Khrushchev repeated his demand that the Western powers

Stanwyck Injures Hand in TV Scene

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Actress Barbara Stanwyck cut her hand doing a drunk scene for a television film Monday.

The script called for her to brush a glass off a bar. Instead, the studio reported, the actress slammed her fist down on the glass, shattering it.

A doctor removed glass from three cuts in Miss Stanwyck's hand, covered it with a flesh-colored dressing and she went back to work.

A spokesman for Four Star productions said the injury scene will remain in the show, "Special Assignment."

agree to a peace treaty with all Germany and leave West Berlin a free, demilitarized city.

"If this question were settled," he said, "we would remove the main obstacle which stands in the way of relaxation of tension and sets us at loggerheads with the U.S., Britain and France."

The interview was released the same day the Soviet Union rejected a U.S.-British-French proposal that four power talks be called in Berlin to try to ease tension caused by shootings along the dividing wall.

The premier said the Soviet Union found it necessary to renew nuclear testing last fall because the "U.S. inflamed the atmosphere around West Berlin." He denied that the Soviet Union had broken the test moratorium, insisting the fall series was in reply to American tests that preceded the moratorium.

Editors who took part in the interview were Creed Black, Willington, (Del.) News-Journal; Robert Estabrook, Washington Post; John Harris, Hutchinson, (Kan.) News; John Herbert, Quincy (Mass.) Patriot Ledger; Lee Hills, Knight Newspapers; Felix McKnight, Dallas Times Herald; Paul Miller, Gannett Newspapers; Michael Ogden, Providence Journal and Bulletin; Stephen Rosenfeld, Washington Post; Vermont Royster, Wall Street Journal; Lauren K. Pensy, N. Y. Central to Consolidate

CHICAGO (AP)—The Pennsylvania and New York Central railroads announced today a merger plan that they estimate will save an estimated $75 million a year within five years.

The lines said freight service will be improved generally and passenger service will not be changed except for terminal operations in New York and Chicago.

The plan, announced in Chicago and in New York, envisions a $70-million capital plant improvement program which the companies said will give new impetus to the national economy.

This will be financed partly through sale of released duplicate facilities, materials and real estate.

"Generally improved freight service with substantial economies was predicted through use of more favorable through routes, the merged equipment of both lines, and increased utilization of modern yards, shops and other facilities now used to capacity," the railroads said in a statement.

As for passenger service, it would not be changed, except that New York Central long-distance trains operating via Harbison, Albany, Syracuse and Buffalo would use Pennsylvania station in New York.

All other trains, including commuters, would continue to use present facilities.

In Chicago all trains would use Union Station except those New York Central trains now using the Illinois Central Terminal. These would continue to do so.

"Anticipated benefits of the merger," the statement said, "will reach an estimated $75 million per year within five years with completion of a $70 million capital plant improvement program which will give new impetus to the national economy."

The Pennsy and Central said the organization structure of the proposed merged railroad, including location of system and regional headquarters, is yet to be decided.

In general, the statement said, through freight moving between the Middle West and the New York City and New England areas would be routed by way of Cleveland, Buffalo and Albany.

Design and inscription for the first U. S. coin were approved July 6, 1962.

'Work' Is Difficult to Define

DETROIT (AP)—Someone who signed himself "D. Deduction" wrote to the city regarding Detroit's new, one per cent income tax:

"You ask on the withholding form what proportion of my work is done in Detroit."

"I was all set to fill in 100 per cent. But I had a long talk with my boss about my work."

"He made it very clear that as far as he can see I have not done a lick of work all year."

"So I have put down 'zero' on my withholding statement. If you want to argue, argue with him."

U. S. Probes Red View of Berlin

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk hopes to gain a clue from Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko this weekend on whether the Russians intend to stir up further trouble over Berlin.

Rusk plans to leave at midnight Thursday for Geneva, where he has allotted approximately four working days for talks with Gromyko and other foreign ministers and for the signing of the 14-nation agreement on Laos.

This will mark a new chapter in the lengthy and so far inconclusive talks on stands that have remained unchanged: Soviet Premier Khrushchev's demands that Western forces get out of West Berlin, and the Western determi-

Growth of Income Has Slackened

By LARRY OSIUS

WASHINGTON (AP)—Personal incomes of Americans and the nation's industrial production advanced in June to record highs.

But the income gains were only half as great as in the previous month. Industrial production rose so slightly as to remain almost on dead center.

The two key economic indicators—expected to be scrutinized closely by President Kennedy as he considers seeking an economy-spurring tax cut this year—were disclosed Monday.

The Commerce Department said personal incomes rose $700 million in June to a record annual rate of $440.4 billion, an increase of $24 billion over June 1961. But the increase was only about half as big as the one registered in May and was substantially smaller than the advances made earlier this year.

The Federal Reserve Board said that industrial production in June struggled upward to a record 117.8 per cent of the 1957 level compared with 117.5 per cent in May. Some economists expressed surprise that it hadn't declined in the face of the stock market plunge and a strike which cut sharply into auto production.

The increase was less than half that recorded in May, and was so small the board said: "Most measures of business activity changed little in June."

The Reserve Board's monthly report showed these items on the minus side:

An 8 per cent decrease in auto production, attributable mostly to a strike at the Ford Motor Co. parts plant at Walton Hills, Ohio,

which led to an assembly line shutdown of several days.

An 8 per cent decline in iron and steel production following a 14 per cent drop in May.

A decline in stock prices to a low point in late June.

An increase of one-tenth of 1 per cent in unemployment.

Retail sales off 2 per cent and new car sales down 7 per cent.

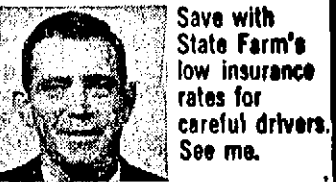

On the plus side, the board reported:

Continued increases in production of television sets, furniture, some consumer staples, and commercial and farm machinery.

Generally stable commodity prices.

New advances in construction that boosted residential, commercial and industrial building to a record annual level of $3 billion.

NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE ASSN.

Government Down to 2 Styles Traps

By FRED S. HOFFMAN

WASHINGTON (AP) — "The military is out of the mousetrap business," a Defense Supply Agency spokesman proclaimed today. This came to light when a newsman checked a report that the Pentagon's giant purchasing agency had "trapped" the rat-and-mouse entrapment device, used by all the services.

At first, the spokesman said he wasn't up on the mousetrap situation, but he'd look into it.

Soon enough, the number of trap styles had been pared from five to two — one for rats, one for mice.

Looking deeper, the official found that his agency had handed over the entire military rat-and-mouse trap buying responsibility to the General Services Administration. The GSA is the federal house-keeping agency. It buys office supplies, supervises and maintains public buildings and does a variety of chores for both civilian and military arms of the government.

The Defense Supply Agency shops for uniforms, auto parts, and all sorts of similar equipment for the Army, Navy, Marines and Air Force.

Generally, federal agencies put up a fight before giving up any of their powers.

But not in this case. An inter-agency committee set down solidly to discuss the issue. And the shift went off without a ripple. Nobody seemed to know how many traps the government bought a year. Nor how much was spent for them.

2 New Types Sought for Moon Ship

By VERN HAUGLAND

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's space agency has called for two new types of moon ships.

One would shuttle between a lunar satellite and the moon's surface. The other would take two men directly from the earth to the moon and back.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration asked the aero-space industry Wednesday to send in proposals for development of the first vehicle. NASA Administrator James H. Webb said the agency hoped to be able to let contracts within three months.

Plans for the second vehicle would take longer to study, he said.

In other developments on the moon front: —NASA disclosed it has started a study in detail of designs for an unmanned vehicle to provide support for the crews that visit the moon.

—The space agency said it is looking for suitable areas for landing spacecraft returning to earth from the moon.

The shuttle or lunar excursion vehicle would be a glass-enclosed cockpit for two men. It would be lodged in the nose of a three-man Apollo spacecraft and would be sent on a 72-hour journey to the area of the moon by an advanced Saturn C5 rocket.

The Apollo, with the miniature craft in its nose, would go into orbit about 100 miles above the moon. Two of the three crew members would climb into the excursion capsule, detach it from the mother craft, and descend to about 50,000 feet above the moon for closer examination of the surface.

If landing prospects appeared orbiting Apollo craft, and blast unfavorable the capsule would re-off for the return trip to the turn to the orbiting mother craft, earth.

7,000 Reservists to Leave Chaffee

FORT SMITH, Ark. (AP) — Departure ceremonies will be held July 23 at nearby Ft. Chaffee for some 7,000 reservists and National Guardsmen being released from active duty starting Aug. 1. Among those scheduled to be on hand for the ceremonies are Stephen Ailes, Undersecretary of the Army, and Lt. Gen. Carl Jark, commander of the 4th Army.

Macmillan Under Fire on All Sides

By DENNIS NEEDLE

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Harold Macmillan came under over the entire military rat-and-mouse trap buying responsibility to the General Services Administration. The GSA is the federal house-keeping agency. It buys office supplies, supervises and maintains public buildings and does a variety of chores for both civilian and military arms of the government.

The Defense Supply Agency shops for uniforms, auto parts, and all sorts of similar equipment for the Army, Navy, Marines and Air Force.
